FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Springfield, IL October 1, 2026 . . . OLIVIA BRADLEY, vice president of Business Development & Client Engagement at LEGENCE BANK, ELDORADO, was elected as CDD Chairman of the Community Bankers Association of Illinois (CBAI) at the association's annual convention held recently in Indianapolis, IN.

Olivia Bradley serves as Vice President of Business Development & Client Engagement at Legence Bank. Since joining the bank in 2001, she has focused on strengthening customer relationships and developing new banking opportunities.

Bradley was part of the team that launched Legence Bank's Go!Learn financial literacy program and remains a key contributor to its success. The program reaches more than 1,800 students each year. Her extensive banking experience and knowledge of the bank's products and services help her provide personalized guidance to customers while supporting the growth of Legence Bank and American Farm Mortgage.

Bradley is actively involved in BNI, building professional relationships and connecting with local business leaders. She serves as a mentor for the Saline County CEO program and as a steering committee member for the Williamson County CEO program. Her community involvement includes the Spirit of Shawneetown non-profit, Shawneetown public library, and Gallatin County FFA Alumni.

CBAI, a professional trade association headquartered in Springfield, was founded in 1974 to exclusively represent and serve the community banking profession through effective advocacy, outstanding education, and high-quality products and services. CBAI's 240 members hold more than $80 billion in assets and operate more than 1,500 locations statewide. For more information, visit www.cbai.com.
