

Online Privacy and Protecting Children Online

Legence Bank understands the importance of guarding the identity and privacy of children. Legence Bank provides the Go!Learn section of its website for the convenience and education of its customers and communities and their children. Legence Bank is committed to protecting the online privacy of the children who visit its website and we encourage parents, guardians and teachers to monitor and supervise the online interactions of children under the age of 13, including participating in any interactive activities offered on the website. The Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA) was passed to give parents increased control over websites and services directed to children under the age of 13, what information is knowingly collected from their children online and how such information is used. Legence Bank is committed to complying with the Children's Online Protection Act. Legence Bank does not intentionally market to or solicit personal information from children under the age of 13, nor is information knowingly collected from them.
